THE FLAVOURS OF BRISBANE

BLESSED WITH A STUNNING coastline, pristine hinterlands and barely explored outback, Queensland is a safe and easy holiday destination where all seasons have a unique profile and particular high points. Add to that a growing wine region which is delivering wines of a high international standard and some of the country's finest dining experiences and you have paradise at your doorstep.

Brisbane, now a thoroughly modern city with a thriving heart and a great, friendly pulse, is rimmed with a growth band – a green pastoral perimeter where much of what we eat is grown as well as in the hinterlands of the Gold and Sunshine Coasts, where higher altitudes and small, environmentally responsible populations ensure premium produce. Moreton Bay and our coastline produce a myriad of glorious fish and crustaceans which is much sought after around the globe.

As the state welcomes more than 1500 new residents every week, it's little wonder there is a growing posse of talent, particularly in the hospitality industry where many chefs, restaurateurs and other industry professionals are 'sea-changing' here to work and live in this abundant and gorgeous environment.

A culinary low point no more, Brisbane city now has a plethora of establishments which range from casual pizzerias to elegant fine diners.

WATERLINE RESTAURANT By Kerry Heaney

Even on a less than perfect Brisbane day (yes, occasionally the sun doesn't shine full blast), the view from the Waterline Restaurant is special.

The Waterline Restaurant wraps around one side of the Riverside Centre in Eagle Street with floor to ceiling glass maximising the view. There's even an open air balcony which would be a perfect position for enjoying Brisbane's regular river firework displays.

From the Story Bridge to the Kangaroo Point Cliffs, the river unfolds before your eyes. Ferries amble up and down while City Cats fly past. It's the view that does the talking here with clean white tables sans cloths and comfortable moulded pine chairs taking second place.

The menu is modern Australian with a good selection of your favourites from Sydney rock oysters to prime, char-grilled steaks.

If you're after a fast turnaround for a quick business lunch, prompt service will have you in and out in just 20 minutes with the right menu choice.

Entrees include the ever popular prawn and avocado cocktail – a perfect combo of the fruits of the sea and land, Queensland style; simple but tasty char-grilled corn, bacon and potato chowder; gravlax of Tasmanian salmon simply served with crisp iceberg lettuce, fried capers and lemon cream cheese or even a crisp pork with black mushroom risotto.

For the not so hungry there's a good selection of light meals including a wagu beef burger, salt and pepper calamari and beer and dill battered reef fish and chips.

The menu really shines when it comes to the grill and with a tag line of 'scaring vegetarians for 23 years' it's no surprise. Choose 1824 Beef premium sirloin on the bone or rump from The Australian Agricultural Company or Nolan's private selection T-bone or eye fillet in sizes ranging from 300 to 500 grams.

Popular with visitors and local workers, the restaurant offers a hard-to-beat Credit Crunch Lunch with one course and one glass of wine for $25. I chose the medium rare seared lamb fillet on an orange scented cous cous salad. It came with fresh herbs and mint yoghurt plus a glass of 2008 Kapuka Pinot Noir from Marlborough, New Zealand. The lamb had that beautifully pink interior which contrasts well with the char-grilled exterior.

The Two Fine Reds for Two menu offer has an eye filled medallion, roast onion and tomato mash, fresh beans with a shiraz jus and a bottle of 2008 Round Two Shiraz from the Barossa for just $40 per person for two people.

The wine list includes a good range of imported and Australian wines including some excellent selections from the award winning Witches Falls winery on Mount Tamborine.

Waterline Restaurant, Riverside Centre, 123 Eagle Street, Brisbane. Open for lunch Monday – Friday. Tel: 3832 2122. www.fridays.com.au
